Check us out! If you want to improve your skills, learn a few new quilting tips, and make some new quilting friends, then Bit x Bit may be the group for you! We were organized about 15 years ago, for the purpose of improving our quilting, supporting one another, and socializing with other quilters. We have survived the test of time. Our membership is small ... no more than 12 members per year. We meet on the third Thursday morning of the month at members' homes. The hostess offers beverages and coffee.

We are essentially a block exchange group, but some months we go to a museum or quilt show; other months we might have a sew day, or a shopping trip to a quilt store or two. In December, we meet earlier in the month and have a Christmas/holiday luncheon. Our rotation begins in September when every member chooses a month to host. The hostess prepares and presents a block pattern & sample block, and the members of the group follow her guidelines to make a block or two for her, which we bring back to the next meeting a month later, and the process repeats itself. We also have lots of Show & Tell, and many brain-storming sessions. We guarantee your work will improve.
